THE Tameside Reporter is proud to be able to play a part in helping to drive down crime and rid our streets of anti-social behaviour.

Many young people are blamed for causing problems, but in fact the Tameside Reporter news pages are often full of stories of the positive part many young people play in our community and of the many wonderful things they have achieved.

All too many youngsters who hang around the streets use the tired claim that there is simply not enough for them to do or that there are too few places for them to go.

In fact, the reality is that there are many hundreds of social groups throughout Tameside, especially sports teams and associations.

And that's where you come in! We want to continue to highlight all the good work and news all those groups and organisations do for our community through the columns of the Tameside Reporter.

In short, we want your news from your local groups so we can continue to highlight the positive work and opportunities you are offering.

We're here to let everyone know the good news.

The Tameside Reporter will also be focusing regularly on the results from the Community Diaries to bring you the good news of how, together, we really can crack crime and make Tameside an even better place to live.
