We need you to keep us fully in the picture

LISTENING: New Chief Superintendent Zoe Hamilton.

“ONE of the most important parts of our role as police officers is to listen to what the community is telling us and for us to act on it,” says Chief Superintendent Zoë Hamilton, Divisional Commander for Tameside division said:

“Your information is vital to the police so I would ask that you continue to work with us, report the crimes you are a victim of and tell us what is happening in your area.

“If we don’t know the full picture we can’t tackle the problem effectively.

“There are a number of methods in place for people to share information with us, on both a formal and informal level.

“Our police community support officers and community beat officers hold regular surgeries, where members of the public can come and voice their concerns or get advice on keeping themselves, their family and their home safe.

“Issues can also be raised at PACT meetings through your local councillor, police officer, your Homewatch coordinator or even your housing agency.

“An online reporting form has recently been launched, which can be accessed through the GMP website www.gmp.police.uk or information can be given anonymously through Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

“I want to reassure you that we are listening to what you are telling us and together with our partners, like Tameside Community Safety Unit, we are working hard to make Tameside a safer place.”

Information on criminal activity? You can call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111

Tameside Patrollers, ‘eyes’ and the ‘ears’ on the street

CLEAN-UP: Tameside Patrollers sort out fly tipping problems.

TAMESIDE Patrollers are often seen as the ‘Eyes and Ears’ on the street.

They’re a team of uniformed council officers that work hand in hand with Greater Manchester Police to tackle lower level disorder such as youth nuisance and environmental anti-social behaviour.

In each District Assembly, you’ll find a team of dedicated patrollers for that area.

By working in this way, officers know what individual concerns are within communities as well as who they can work with to tackle any problems.

The patrollers have a range of responsibilities. These include:

- Monitoring the neighbourhood CCTV network across the borough.
- Deterring crime by working in partnership with the police and social landlords such as New Charter. This includes involvement in multi-agency initiatives such as the Padlock Operations which tackle anti-social behaviour, criminal damage, burglary and robbery.

- Taking legal action against litter louts and people who allow their dogs to foul in public areas by offering advice and issuing Fixed Penalty Notices.

- Reducing anti-social behaviour and illegal drinking on the streets by working with Tameside’s Anti-Social Behaviour Team. When officers find people causing nuisance in the street, referrals are made to the ASB Team who then write to the parents.

- Ridding towns of fly posting and abandoned vehicles by working closely with TMBC Environmental Enforcement Teams.

- Working closely with local businesses to help support the local economy.

The Patrollers are on duty until 10pm, Monday to Saturday, in your community.

To find out more about the service or to report any concerns you may have, telephone (0161) 342 3010. An answer machine is available out of office hours.

FRIENDLY FACES: Tameside Patrollers offer reassurance on our streets.

IN TRAINING: Patrollers and PCSOs celebrate after passing string tests.
